

Cyprus

Cyprus offers stunning sun-soaked beaches, handsome scenery and traditional villages all wrapped up in a rich cultural heritage. The welcome here is one of the warmest in the Mediterranean.

Cyprus is the third largest island in the Mediterranean and boasts stunning beaches and rocky coves, beautiful scenery and traditional villages, friendly people and a rich cultural heritage. The island has an appealing selection of luxury hotels, many of them extensive properties with every facility you could wish for. It's also an island which lends itself to car hire – you drive on the left – just one of many genuine affinities which the island shares with the United Kingdom.

OUR RESORTS

Paphos, particularly popular with the British, combines the beauty of the mountains and the sea with its charming harbour, ancient sites and monuments. Busy Limassol offers excellent shopping and a wide range of tavernas and restaurants, an old town set around an imposing castle and a blue flag stretch of beach. Idyllic Pissouri boasts a sand and shingle beach, crystal clear waters, and a sleepy village in the hills behind the bay. Peaceful Coral Bay has a fabulous white, sandy and gently shelving beach and an array of watersports. Latchi, along the northwest coast, is a picturesque fishing village with harbourfront restaurants. The gently shelving sandy beaches of Ayia Napa appeal to families and a younger crowd drawn to the club scene. Protaras is situated along the sandy coastline of Cyprus's Fig Tree Bay. The glorious beach is the main attraction and this family friendly resort has been built up around it.

Go scuba diving, kitesurfing or windsurfing. Alternatively strike out into the Akamas Peninsula and Troodos Mountains where wildflower meadows and vineyards sweep up to pine-clad mountains offering hiking, rambling and horse riding. Cycle hire facilities exist in most resorts. For golfers, Secret Valley, Tsada Golf and Aphrodite Hills are excellent 18-hole courses near Paphos.

TROODOS MOUNTAINS

Delight in the stunning views and scenery of the pine-clad Troodos Mountains and Mount Olympus. The area is home to traditional villages, and beautifully frescoed Byzantine monasteries and churches, ten of which enjoy UNESCO World Heritage status.

AKAMAS NATIONAL PARK

On the west coast of the island, the Akamas National Park is home to the Baths of Aphrodite and the 8km long Aphrodite Trail, the impressive 2.5km long Avakas Gorge, the turtle breeding ground of Lara Beach and the stunning Blue Lagoon.

ANCIENT KOURION

West of Limassol the archaeological site of Kourion, perched on a hillside overlooking the surrounding fields and the sea, is one of the most impressive of the island.

PAPHOS

Paphos has plenty to discover with the Tombs of the Kings, St Paul's Pillar, the Temple of Aphrodite, and the World Heritage site of Kato Paphos Archaeological Park with striking, still intact, mosaic floors in four Roman villas, and the Byzantine Castle of Paphos; standing majestically partly in the sea and the setting for the yearly Aphrodite festival in the autumn.

NICOSIA

Nicosia, the capital, is known as the last divided city of Europe and there is much to explore in this historic city including the Archbishop's Palace, the Cathedral of St John and the archaeological collection at the Cyprus Museum.

LARNACA

In addition to its attractive waterfront, Larnaca boasts the ornate Church of St Lazarus and an interesting old Turkish quarter, the Skala, with artisan ceramic workshops and traditional whitewashed cottages. Just to the west of the town, Larnaca Salt Lake is packed with pink flamingos in the spring.
